Welcome
ming

Awe Inspiring Majesty

Powerful. Enormous. Breathtaking. The dramatic drumbeat of crashing waves as the irresistible force of the ocean meets the immovable rocks of the shore, molding the coastline to look like it does today - rugged and magnificent. Shore Acres State Park is the ideal place to witness Mother Nature's power. Lauded as the Best Storm Watching Location on the Coast, you can view the famed crashing waves that go up to 300 feet high. It doesn't have to be storming to enjoy the waves, though. Just pick a day when swells are predicted to be high.

Every wave is one of a kind.

Breathtaking

The view from Lighthouse Viewpoint on the way to Cape Arago State Park is one of the most stunning sights along the entire Adventure Coast. The existing lighthouse structure, built in 1909 on the site of Oregon's very first lighthouse, is an important part of the Adventure Coast's history as it provided navigational aid and warned mariners away from the dangerous, rocky shoreline until 2006. Spotting it from one of the several viewpoints along Cape Arago Loop is a breathtaking moment.

What Lies Beneath

Variety is the name of the game when it comes to fishing. We offer world-class fishing year-round, with fresh water rivers and lakes as well as bay and ocean saltwater options. The fun and sport of fishing builds memories of a lifetime.

While here, it is worth exploring the different types of fishing, from shore, charter boat, bridge, and even kayak. The local bait and tackle shops offer all the gear, plus advice for the novice and experienced anglers.

Salmon and steelhead fishing trips make for fantastic stories. But one of our local favorites is to spend a warm day on the beach, relaxing and catching surf perch. Those looking for a peaceful lakeside trip will find many locations with plentiful perch, bass, and trout. No matter where you go fishing on the Adventure Coast, you're bound to make some lasting memories.

Halibut is a spring and early summer fishery, while Albacore Tuna tend to be offshore from mid-summer through early fall. Bottomfish are available all year long – weather permitting. Check the ODF&W website for bottomfish catch limits.

The crabbing here is second to none and can be done any time of the year off the docks. The best meals are the ones you catch yourself, so throw out a crab trap from the dock or a charter and wait. You can charter a trip from guides who know the best spots. The refreshing ocean air and views of the spectacular coast just adds to the flavor.

Hit the Miles of Dunes

Pulse-pounding adventure hides over and around every new dune on Oregon's Adventure Coast. The electric atmosphere means excitement is in the air, and beach access allows for thrilling experiences whenever adventure calls. Located between Spinreel Campground and Horsfall Road, the area's largest riding area is a surefire way to have an adrenaline-filled trip.

The Oregon Dunes National Recreation Area, is the largest expanse of coastal sand dunes in North America and needs to be experienced first-hand to really be appreciated. The area extends for 40 miles along the coast, and has dunes that tower over 500 feet above sea level.

Exhilarating
Zipping up and down the stunning Pacific Ocean beach dunes is a hair-raising good time that's sure to be remembered for years to come. The dunes extend inland as much as two and a half miles and are the perfect place to create unforgettable stories. The shifting, sand sculpted nature of The Dunes means every adventure is one of a kind and ever changing.

Adventure is in the very DNA of Coos Bay, North Bend and Charleston. And ATVing is an undoubtedly exhilarating way to experience the area. Other activities in The Dunes include beach combing, photography, surf fishing, horseback riding, fat tire biking and hiking.

Real Face Time

The Adventure Coast's numerous camping opportunities create the perfect backdrop for reconnecting with family and friends. Each campground has its own universe, with vista, flora, fauna, and activities. There's no better way to strengthen a relationship than to experience nature without being tethered to a device, and camping allows for time to explore and be with family and friends.

Camping's great every season here, but make sure you account for the weather. Whenever you decide to disconnect there's a campsite to be found and space to spread out

While here, visit any of the five lighthouses that are within an hour of Coos Bay and North Bend. It is truly one great way to see the area. Hiking and biking are two other options that can be done at almost any level - from casual to intense. Finding ways to reconnect and stay close to family and friends isn't always easy in a busy life. But coming together here changes that. After settling in, turn off the devices and turn up the conversation.

From Mountains to Sea

Let the landscape capture your imagination. There is no better place to be inspired and rejuvenated. As the morning sun rises over the mountains to the east, it lights the connection of where the rivers meet the ocean, and illuminates the dunes, beaches and coastline.

Wave action creates mist clouds, ever changing in shape and formation. This is a place for meditation and introspection. Spend time gazing upon the tide pools tucked under cliffs and rocks. Explore the rolling estuaries or roam the ocean beaches collecting shells and rocks. This distinctive area attracts a vast collection of birds and wildlife, and contains unique vegetation. Experience nature at your own pace, without distractions.

All this natural majesty will have that voice in your head saying, "I can't believe we're here, there are no words to describe this". Allow yourself to leave behind your busy life, taking time to appreciate the awe-inspiring views and the remarkable diversity of the terrain. Sit quietly . . . listen to the gentle waves lap along the shore as you view the spectacular sunset over the Pacific.

Make Some Tracks

The scenery that makes up the unique setting on Oregon's Adventure Coast is spell-binding for the senses. Visitors capture enchanting moments that are the best of memories.

With such a wide array of terrain and vistas, it's no wonder that hiking is on most guests' "Must Do" lists when they come to the area.

Unique trails of all difficulty levels allow everyone to experience nature in their own way. Views of the many majestic waterfalls are accessible via hiking trails, with each one leading to a rare and timeless sightseeing opportunity.

The magic doesn't end with waterfalls though; wooded river trails, dramatic ocean cliffs, and beach-side options all make for their own, one-of-a-kind experience. Each excursion is special, from sand dunes to rocky switchbacks, so every hike creates a magical and gorgeous photo op. Whether going out and back, or just making a big loop, Oregon's Adventure Coast has almost any trail need covered.

Enjoy the Turf and Surf

At Oregon's Adventure Coast, we have activities of all excitement and intensity levels.

If you're looking for thrills, they won't be hard to come by. Mountain or fat tire biking, makes for an adrenalin-rich adventure off the beaten path. So whether you ride for a week, or just 15 minutes, you're sure to have a good time. Our expertly engineered Whiskey Run Mountain Biking Trail is rated as one of the top single-track trail systems on the west coast! If you are looking for an intense experience in the Oregon Dunes that does not include an ATV, try fat tire biking over the undulating and ever-changing sands. With multiple trail systems, beaches, dunes, and paths, our wonderfully diverse landscape offers a different backdrop for every ride.

And if you love the terrain from the ground, imagine seeing the rugged coastline from the water! Riding the waves on the Adventure Coast is a must-do excursion for every daredevil. Check out Bastendorff Beach for exhilarating surfing. The local surf community offers lessons for a variety of skill levels and the best places to surf based on conditions.

For the less adventurous, take to the water in a kayak or stand up paddleboard (SUP) in our lakes, rivers, streams, bays and estuary. There is just nothing like a self-propelled adventure and you might spy interesting wildlife that call this part of the Oregon Coast home.

In the Footsteps of a Legend

Steve Prefontaine, Pre to his fans, holds a special place in the hearts and minds of the citizens of Coos Bay. Born in 1951, he discovered his gift for running fast and far at the age of 15. It was along the southern coastal dunes and on his high school track team where Pre developed his hunger to be the best in his field, and to do it with style. When he ran, those fortunate enough to witness it saw something they had never seen before, or since.

Coos Bay commemorates Pre's life and legacy with monuments, plaques and a mural depicting his time growing up here, all the

American records he held at the time of his death in May 1975,

and his awards and memorabilia. For a full list of monuments and directions, visit the Coos Bay Visitor Information Center.

You, too, can run where this legend and International track star ran. Follow his steps during the Annual Prefontaine Memorial Run, a challenging 10K road race held the 3rd Saturday in Sept: www.prefontainerun.com. Pre also trained on 7 Devils Road - the name says it all! Test your mettle against the rugged coastline during the Annual Charleston Salmon Run Marathon, Half Marathon, 10K and 1M Crab Walk held the 1st Saturday in Oct: www.charlestonsalmonrun.com.

See the mural of this iconic athlete, shown below, on the walls along Broadway Street, in downtown Coos Bay.
